Advanced School for the Banjo and Zither Banjo.

A FULLY ILLUSTRATED AND COMPREHENSIVE METHOD BY HERBERT J. ELLIS.

It is confidently asserted that every effect in solo playing has been not only explained, but exhaustively treated; numerous photo-reproductions are given showing the position of the hands, and further illustrated by exercises properly marked and fingered. The book is worthy its title in every sense, advanced in method, and an advance on anything that has preceded it, both as regards matter and production.

In addition to the necessary elementary matter relating to Rudiments of Music, Tuning, Holding the Banjo, First Scales and Exercises.

A BOON TO BANJOISTS.

Vamping Tutor for the Banjo

By HAVELOCK MASON. 2s. 6d. Net.

This Book has been designed on an entirely novel plan by which even the most elementary Banjoist can see at a glance not only the suitable chords for an accompaniment, but the simplest and most correct manner of fingering them. Full-sized diagrams with all necessary instructions are given for each of the principal major and minor keys. To illustrate effective methods of "vamping" in different styles, a large number of extracts from well-known compositions are interspersed, and, while nothing of practical worth has been omitted, technical and theoretical difficulties have been avoided. The whole idea has been to aim at the best results by the simplest means, and to reduce to practical value the essence of all that has already appeared on the subject of Banjo accompanying.

Sound the battle cry
Once for all
Whosoever will
Easter Hymn
The Home over there
Let the lower lights be burning
Rescue the Perishing
Wonderful words of life
Will you go with me to Heaven?
Joy Bells
My Mothers Bible
The Gate's Ajar
Go bury thy sorrow
Jesus loves even me
The Heavenly Land
Stand up for Jesus
Let us scatter seeds of kindness
The Sweet bye and bye
Jewels
When Jesus comes
Knocking, knocking
Jesus loves me
Is there room for Mary there?
The first Nowell
Christians awake
Work, for the night is coming
Where is my boy to-night?
Shall we gather at the River?
I will arise
For ever with the Lord
